John Carroll Students Abroad

Corinne Hendrock - Without a doubt, study abroad has been the most thrilling and life-changing decision I have made thus far. I chose to spend my Spring 2015 semester in Galway, Ireland and putting my experiences into words has proven to be difficult since I participated in countless exciting activities. I took numerous trips around the country, seeing landmarks like the Giant's Causeway, Cliffs of Moher in addition to traveling to four other countries. Of course, being abroad came with academic responsibilities and I enjoyed spending time studying courses like Celtic Religion and Folklore as well as 19th century Irish Literature. Through my travels and lectures, I have gained friends from multiple countries and learned to be more self-confident while learning about my Northern Irish roots. If I could express one piece of advice, it would be for any student at John Carroll to take advantage of studying new cultures and courses through study abroad – YOU WON'T REGRET IT!

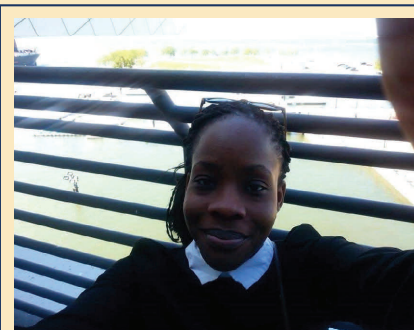

Spotlight On Our International Students

My name is Michael Bannon, a 20 year old from Belfast, Northern Ireland. I am here as an exchange student for a year from Queen's University, Belfast. At JCU I am a Business Major, and I'm really enjoying the different classroom environment compared to back home. One of the biggest things I'll take away from this amazing experience is the diversity on campus, during my time here I have met many people from many backgrounds that I never would have in Northern Ireland. Hopefully, over the rest of my exchange at JCU I will get to travel and see what the rest of what USA has to offer, and continue to enjoy every moment of my year abroad.

My name is Linda Kamdem, 22 years old, I am a Cameroonian but I study in France. I am a Senior Student majoring in accounting, and here for a semester as an exchange student of Neoma Business School in France. So far, my first experience in the USA has been amazing!!! It's really awesome to have the opportunity to meet people from all over the world: American, Japanese, German, Indian, Spanish, and Mexican etc..., At JCU teachers are really understanding and glad to help. I should also say, it's really cold here. I have made a few trips and I am still looking forward to seeing more of the USA during Christmas break and hope to come back again when I graduate from Neoma, because it is a memorable experience.

Mayo Society of Greater Cleveland Scholarships Recipients

The Mayo Society of Greater Cleveland Scholarship Fund sponsors John Carroll students each year at the National University Ireland, Galway. This year's scholarship recipients are Shawn Breslin '18 and Maura Farr '17. Each student will receive $7500 from the MSGC to study abroad this spring at the National University of Ireland, Galway. This semester, JCU welcomes Lorna McLoughlin and Sinéad Ní Bhéarra as exchange students from NUI Galway. These cultural exchanges enrich the John Carroll community and help prepare students to lead and serve by engaging the world around them and around the globe.
