

Department of Classical and Modern Languages and Cultures

Meet Your Major/Minor/Concentration
September 29th, 2011

Department of Classical and Modern Languages and Cultures

Welcome... and thanks.

Department of Classical and Modern Languages and Cultures

Faculty

Language Offerings

- Ancient Greek
- Arabic
- Chinese
- French
- German
- Italian
- Japanese
- Latin
- Russian
- Slovak
- Spanish

Courses in Literature and Culture in Translation

IC = “International Cultures” in English

Spring 2012 Offerings

- IC231: Short Fiction since 1900 (Russian, Slovak, Czech) (II, L, S)
- IC299: Contemporary European Cinema (II, S)
- IC 363: Framing Grace: Artists and Poets of the Italian Renaissance (II, L, S)
- IC399a: Camino de Santiago
- IC399b: China through Films

Courses in Literature and Culture in Translation

CL = “Classical Studies” in English

Spring 2012 Offerings

- CL220: Classical Mythology (II, L)
- CL340: The Archaeology of Greece

Majors and Minors in Languages and Cultures

You can earn a Major, Minor or Teacher Licensure
in Classics (Ancient Greek, Latin),
French,
German,
and Spanish.

Interdisciplinary Majors

East Asian Studies

Four courses (12 credits) in Chinese or Japanese language.

Eight more East Asia courses (24 credits) in at least three departments or disciplines, including a capstone project/course during senior year.

Interdisciplinary Majors

International Business with Language and Culture

Business core, courses on problem solving and innovation in international context, 6 courses of foreign languages including a business language course, 2 IC courses in target culture, spring study abroad and internships.

Interdisciplinary Minors and Concentrations

You can use your study of language, literature and culture to earn Interdisciplinary Minors and Concentrations in
East Asian Studies
International Business
International Economics and Modern Languages
International Studies
Italian Studies
Latin American and Latino Studies
Modern European Studies

Extra-curricular Opportunities

- Classics Club
- Japan Society
- Spanish Club
- Italian Club
- French Club
- R.爱.C.E (Realizing Your Love for Cultures of the East)

Classics Club's float, 2006 Homecoming parade

HONOR SOCIETIES

Pi Delta Phi - (French)

Sigma Delta Pi - (Spanish)

Eta Sigma Phi - (Classics)

Career Opportunities

- ⌘ International Business
- ⌘ Journalism
- ⌘ Import/Export
- ⌘ Medicine
- ⌘ International Law
- ⌘ Tourism
- ⌘ Telecommunications
- ⌘ Education
- ⌘ Non-Profit Organizations

Success Stories

Maria Roberts (2009)

JCU: Classics major;
participant in JCU
Vatican City
program.

NOW: Finished MA in Latin at University of Georgia. Teaching
Latin at Holy Spirit Preparatory School in Atlanta.

Success Stories

David Essi (2010)

JCU: B.S. in Biology; study abroad in Vatican
City Program ; Italian
Studies concentration.

NOW: Bioethics MA program at Case Western Reserve University and applying to medical schools.

Success Stories

Alex Millar (2010)

JCU: East Asian Studies
and History Major, Study abroad at Sophia University in Tokyo and Nanzan
University in Nagoya.

NOW: Marketing Representative, Mitsui
Trading Company, one of Japan's largest trading companies.

Success Stories

Roberto Santosdiaz (2011)

JCU: East Asian Studies

and Economics Double

Major, Study abroad at Beijing Center, China.

NOW: Teaching English in South Korea after winning a highly competitive 2011-

2012 Fulbright Award from the U.S. State Department.

Success Stories

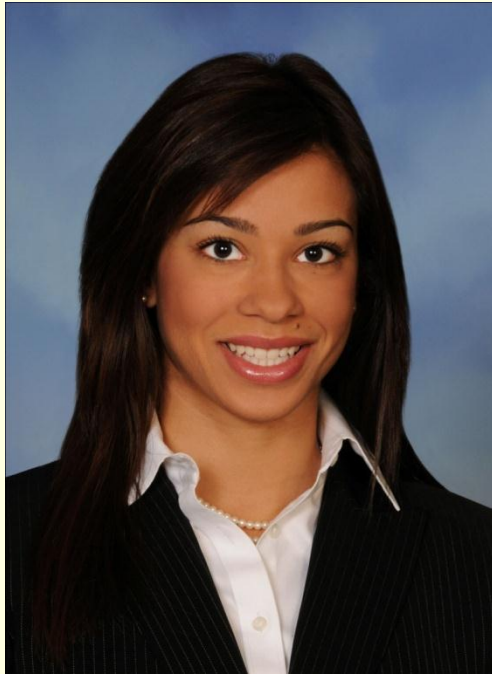

Sam Amos (2011)

JCU: Classics major, History minor, Graduated in three years.

NOW: MAT program in Latin at the University of Massachusetts-Amherst.

Success Stories

Amber Thomas (2006)

JCU: B.S. in Business Administration (Marketing) and German.

NOW: Key Bank, Dallas: Senior Analyst, KeyBank Real Estate Capital Markets Group.

“In a world where competition is fierce and business degrees are not as much of a differentiating factor as maybe they were in the past, I think it's important to have something that sets you apart, but it has to be genuine and can't be something you pursue just because you think it might help you later on. “

Study Abroad

Students can participate in JCU study abroad AND study trips to a full range of countries

See the JCU Center for Global Education (AD building, 1st floor) for more information on study abroad opportunities.

MEXICO

SPAIN

CHINA

FRANCE

JAPAN

VATICAN CITY

GERMANY

QUEBEC

Department of Classical and Modern Languages and Cultures

Stories from Study Abroad

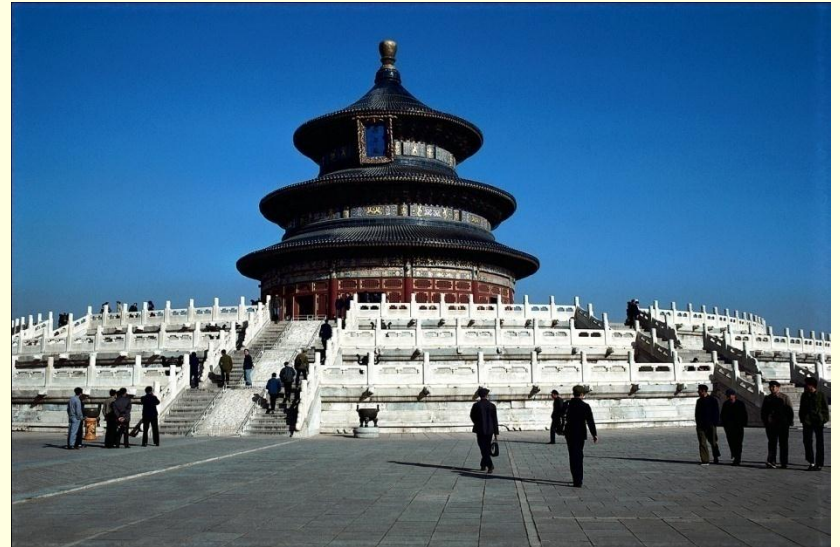

Spain

China

France

Italy

Japan

Stories from Study Abroad

Spain-Margaret Blackburn

Stories from Study Abroad

Spain-Margaret Blackburn

Stories from Study Abroad

China-Rebecca Secula

Stories from Study Abroad

France-William Cook

Stories from Study Abroad

Italy-Alicia Jordan & Gabriella Rakoczy

Stories from Study Abroad

Japan-Charles Vaughn

Stories from Study Abroad

Japan-Charles Vaughn

Stories from Study Abroad

Japan-Charles Vaughn

Stories from Study Abroad

Japan- Glenn Hall

Stories from Study Abroad

Japan- Glenn Hall

Stories from Study Abroad

Japan- Glenn Hall

Department of Classical and Modern Languages and Cultures

For more information Check us out online at <http://www.jcu.edu/language/>

Department of Classical and Modern Languages and Cultures

Please join us in OC112

Reception with international food and drink

