

Abby's Pushback Hey (for my granddaughter, Abby Pershing, who likes this dance)

A1 With your Neighbor, star right all the way around, and swing

A2 Ladies lead a push-back Hey

B1 Ladies pass by the right, swing your partner

B2 Ladies chain, left hand star

 In a pushback hey dancers start a hey for 4 but when they meet the other person of their gender in the middle of the set, they put up both hands and push off from each other. Ladies begin by going to the middle while the men step to the right. Ladies push back into the gent's place on the side of the set. While the men go to the center the ladies step to their right then the men push back to their original places. Repeat the figure.

Notes: Depending on the efficiency with which people form the basket, couples MAY end up on the wrong side of the set to do si do their neighbors. There are two recovery points where dancers can correct this. 1) People are supposed to swing their partners on the MAN's side of the set. The woman to take the man back with her for that to happen. 2) foursomes in the wrong place can circle left once and a quarter to pass through in the proper direction.
